FOR SHERIFF.

I hereby announce myself as candidate for the nomination of Sheriff of Cochise county subject to the action of the County Democratic Convention. Respectfully,
SCOTT WHITE.

WEDNESDAY, SEPT. 21, 1898.

There seems to be no doubt in the minds of the staunch democrats of Cochise county, as well as of the territory, that the territorial convention has placed before the people a man of sterling character and worthy of their support. Gen. J. F. Wilson. Gen. Wilson has been a resident of Arizona for quite a number of years and has always stood faithfully by its interests. He was in Washington at the time that McCord was appointed and did all in his power to defeat his confirmation in the senate, and, with delegate Smith, exerted his every effort to have a home rule bill passed by congress, which would have given the right to the people of Arizona to elect their own territorial officers and take the control of the territorial treasury the dictates of one man. For a several years General Wilson held the office of Attorney General of the territory and his record there is one of which he may well be proud; it is an open book and no charges can be made against him. He is a man of character and force, is honest and as lawyer stands at the head of his profession in the territory; is a peer of the stars, and not a spot or stain can be found against him as a man. When such men as Gen. Wilson are elected to office there will be less funding of money and territorial bonds, there will be fewer changes in the text books of our schools, and railroads would pay their share of the taxes. Gen. Wilson will do his utmost to secure statehood for Arizona, and having had experience in legislative matters will be of much service to our people than others who have never seen the inside of a legislative hall. It is the duty of democrats to present a solid front—plant their banners on the outer wall, and from now until the setting of the sun on the 8th day of November work without ceasing for the election of J. F. Wilson, the democratic nominee for delegate to congress.

Who is this man Hughes, of the Star who casts his slur upon men in this territory who are as much his superiors as he is above the earth. In the streets of his own town he is the laughing stock of the children. His hypocrisy is known by old and young alike, and his posing as the leader of temperance societies and churches, while his soul is as black and tainted as the devil's himself, has raised a stench in the nostrils of everyone. His deceit and lying qualities have ever been the cause of his removal from every public trust to which he aspired. Sincere in nothing, and one of the grandest thieves and scoundrels in the territory, he floats around in his slime from one side to the other in his hope to catch a few crumbs from the table of his masters. He has been connected with every rascally act of the last two administrations and his heart-rending appeals to McCord—"stay at home, governor"—made him the laughing stock of the territory. You are too small and contemptible, Mr. Hughes, to injure good citizens in this territory. Your bark is not even heard outside of your pretended nest of sanctity which was once so foul with the smell of adultery and debauchery that it has never fully recovered.—Arizona Bulletin.

Now that the democratic territorial convention has been held and the party has elected its standard bearer, every democrat in this county will do his duty and this will insure success by a good majority. While it is true that there has been a great amount of rivalry between the candidates, everything is now serene and the democracy of Arizona is united as never before. As our republican friends will find out on the 8th of November next when Col. Wilson will be elected by a handsome majority.

The democracy of Cochise county should see to it that no one but honest responsible men, men who know the needs of the county, men who cannot be handled by the corporations, and who will do their utmost to pass a bill curtailing the powers of the governor, that will support measures abolishing the board of control and the board of immigration commissioners, be nominated on the legislative ticket.

LITTLE BILLY BARNES has found out that he is not so much as he thought he was.

HUGHES and Barnes, with their little game, were grandly sat down on by the convention at Prescott.

BILLY BARNES and his senatorial boom have now gone glimmering and Pinhead Hughes has been lost in the deal. Billy is trying to tell Pinhead how it happened.

ALANCO BAILEY of Globe, who was chairman of the convention at Prescott, by his fair rulings and strict understanding of parliamentary usage, won the esteem of the entire delegates.

COCHISE county will stand by Wilson first, last and all the time, just as she has done in the past by Smith. No gold bug dose can be forced down the throats of Cochise's silver miners. She has too many idle mines and mills for that.

A few paragraphs in regard to the crying need of a freight and fare bill would not be out of place in some of the democratic platforms. A stern expression against any more tax exemption of corporations and all other class legislation would also be extremely democratic.

CHAIRMAN ROWE, who called the territorial convention to order at Prescott, if he had any respect for himself or his did not show it by taking the stand he did in allowing himself to be a hand to the Hughes-Barnes combine.

When the polls were opened every man who is not legally disfranchised will be anxious to vote for some one on one ticket or the other. In order to exercise that privilege, your name must be on the great register. See that it is, and do it at once.

DURING the excitement of the election of the temporary chairman at the convention, the band played "There'll be a hot time in the old town." This was undoubtedly meant for little Billie as he had found out that the other democrats in Pima county were too warm for him.

ALTHOUGH Mark Smith would not accept the nomination for delegate to congress, he is today the strongest and most popular man in the democratic party. The rousing reception given him by the delegates at Prescott, as well as those staying by him after his declining the nomination, speaks volumes for him. It was matters of an entirely private nature that induced Mark to withdraw from the race; but, had he sought the nomination, it would have come to him on the first ballot. Outside of Cochise and Graham counties he had forty two votes. These delegates were instructed for Smith, but as he declined the nomination and would not accept it under any consideration, these twenty-six votes were cast for the other candidates.

The democracy of Arizona did well in its selection of Hon. J. F. Wilson as standard-bearer. There were two other gentlemen prominently before the convention—Hons. Marcus A. Smith and E. E. Ellinwood, the former of whom could have easily secured the nomination on the first ballot had he so desired, but he declined several days prior to the convention, and would not have allowed his name to go before the convention at all had the not been determined to teach "Pinhead" Hughes and the Billie Barnes faction a lesson in diplomacy and decency—to show them that republicanism and miseries would not be tolerated—and at right well did Mark lambaste them, showing to Arizona that the refusal of the republican contingent could have no bearing in a democratic council. Mr. Smith's declination was strenuously opposed by his steadfast adherents, and it was with much difficulty that the convention was prevailed upon to favor another.

THE ORB, in behalf of the Cochise delegation, wishes to most heartily thank the committee on reception at Prescott for the manner in which they were received and entertained while in the old capital. Upon their arrival there at 3 o'clock in the morning they were met by a solitary bus driver. They were then taken up town and landed on the cold pavement without a hotel room in the city to be had, for love or money. For several hours they hunted around alleyways of Prescott looking for a spot on which to rest their weary heads. They finally succeeded in finding two rooms, to secure which necessitated the awakening of the inhabitants. The reception accorded delegates from all southern counties was a shame and a disgrace to the name of the people of Prescott, who have heretofore always bore the reputation of being royal hosts. But perhaps had the people, instead of a few petty, backbiting politicians, been at the head of the reception committee it would have been otherwise. By their actions from start to finish, the would-be boss of the democrats of Yavapai county, with his followers, has won the contempt of the representative democracy of the southern part of the territory.

The following, which is taken from the Phoenix Republic, speaks much for the honor of "Our Mark." Mark

Smith did not go home last night. He is still in town. He is more popular than ever and the democrats will never get through kicking themselves because he refused to accept the nomination at their hands. Smith simply allowed his name to go before the convention in order to administer a trouncing to Billy Barnes. Some one had to do it and Smith was the only one who could; besides, he rather enjoyed the operation. Every one admits that he did an elegant job. Smith got a great deal of satisfaction out of the convention aside from unseating Barnes. The ovation paid him when he arose to decline the nomination must have been one of the proudest moments of his life. It was easily worth the pomp and circumstance of his ten years in congress. Men who had traveled three hundred miles to help defeat him were carried away by the wave of popular enthusiasm created by his presence. He saw that the nomination was his, the delegates saw it, too, and heat and sweetest of all, Barnes saw it also. But Smith said so. He had declined and he kept his word. The noblest work of God in these degenerate days is an honest democratic politician.

There is no institution in our midst of so vital importance to the people and especially the growing generation, as our public schools. And there is no more certain evidence of Bisbee's growth and prosperity than that presented each year in the large increase in the scholastic population of our city. Our people, generally speaking, do not realize the fact, but it is nevertheless true, that the excellence of our public schools is attracting outside attention and is a material benefit to the community. The rapid growth of schools can be, to some extent, measured by the public when it is known that a new teacher has been added each year for the past three years, and now looks as if one or two more would have to be added before long. During the past year two large rooms were added to the school building but these are not sufficient to accommodate the increasing number of students. Some of the rooms have not seats enough to accommodate the pupils. Three of the teachers have over sixty scholars each, which is entirely too many for a teacher to advantageously handle. Forty pupils to the teacher is the general rule of assignment prevailing in all well regulated schools. The trustees yesterday visited the schools and looked into the matter thoroughly and will soon take definite steps to furnish additional accommodations for our pupils. The present board of school trustees is composed of gentlemen of sterling worth and the people have full confidence in them that they are capable of providing what is necessary to meet the growing demands of our schools.

COPPER - IS - KING

The South Bisbee Copper Mining and Townsite Improvement Co.
CAPITAL STOCK - $5,000,000

Non-Assessable and Carrying no Personal Liability to the Holder

The group of mines recently purchased by the "South Bisbee Copper Mining and Townsite Improvement Company" are situated on the southwest side of this copper basin, and extend from the top of the mountains on the west to the center of the basin on the east. Few people have any conception of the amount of mineral that lies in this basin. The Copper Queen Company has been operating here for eighteen years and are down only 500 feet, simply because they found sufficient ore between there and the surface, to keep them in constant operation. It is said by parties who have the opportunity to know, that they now have sufficient ore in sight to maintain their present output for fifteen years without having to sink another foot; and what is true of their property must be true of this company's property when developed.

The stock books of the above company are now open for subscription and a limited number of shares are offered at TWENTY CENTS per share. No applications for less than 100 shares will be accepted. Applications for stock or copy of the prospectus to be made to PETER JOHNSON, Fiscal Agent, Bisbee, Arizona.

Every dollar of the proceeds from the sale of shares of stock and from the sale of the company's town lots, and blocks, which we estimate will be a large sum, will be invested in sinking shafts, development work, the erection of hoisting works and modern smelters, and all necessary improvements, to make this enterprise successful in every way. We can deliver our coke supplies directly from the railroad cars to the smelters; and can also deliver our bullion directly to the cars. We have no salaried officers—hence every dollar will be used for developing the property of this company. The books of the company will be open for inspection at all times, and at the annual meeting of the company, full and exhaustive reports will be submitted to the stockholders, for their approval.

This corporation is composed of practical business men. Upon request of interested parties, we will, with pleasure, submit evidence to show that our claims are modest, in view of the remarkable indications and possibilities of this property.
